

Training Workshop on Machine Vision (Image Processing Fundamentals)

Activity 5 – Threshold image using programming and OpenCV command

Learning outcome: Learn how to write codes to threshold an image.

Task: Figure below show the image of a damaged coin captured using backlighting. Write OpenCV-Python code to threshold the image in such a manner that the object (foreground) is white, while the background is black. You may use your own program or the available OpenCV command for thresholding.

